

March 7, 2005

NEW YORK: Average temperatures with moderate snow fall totals were recorded across the state. An end-of-month snow storm blanketed the region and marked the weather highlight of the month. Farmers were busy attending producer association meetings, repairing machinery, grading and packing onions, potatoes, and apples. Other activities included orchard clean-up, and preparing facilities for the upcoming growing season.