Ohio Floriculture Sales Worth More Than $233 Million

Ohio floriculture was worth more than $233 million in 2023, according to Ben Torrance, State Statistician, USDA NASS, Ohio Field Office.

Ohio floriculture producers sold more than $233 million worth of floriculture commodities in 2023. This was down 4 percent from the $243 million sold in 2022.

There was 25.5 million square feet of greenhouse used to produce floriculture crops in 2023, up from the 25.2 million square feet used in 2022.

Five hundred thirteen producers in Ohio sold at least $10,000 worth of floriculture products last year, up from 453 the previous year. The $20,000 to $39,999 and $50,00 to $99,999 sales classes accounted for most of the increase in producers.

The complete set of data, which includes statistics on type, pot size and price of individual floricultural crops, can be found in the NASS Quick Stats database at quickstats.nass.usda.gov.
